

Deferred Loan application

When a residential care loan becomes repayable, a deferred loan can be offered to people in certain circumstances.

Residential Care Loans help older people who can't get Residential Care Subsidy, to pay for the cost of their care. This is because they still own their home and have limited other assets. Generally, the Loan is repayable within 12 months after the borrower's death. However, in some situations this may not be appropriate, so a Deferred Loan could be an option.

Information in this form is collected primarily to assess your financial situation to repay the Residential Care Loan. The information is collected for the purpose of the administration of the deferred loan scheme. The Ministry of Social Development administers Residential Care Loans as an agent for the Ministry of Health. The Ministry of Social Development will advise the Ministry of Health of the outcome of this application.

What you need to provide

When you apply for a Deferred Loan you'll need to complete this application and provide the following documents for you and your partner (if you have one).

Proof of who you are:

For you

For your partner
(if you have one)

If you were born in New Zealand, provide one type of official identification that has your full legal name and your date of birth (for example, your birth certificate, passport, driver licence, firearms licence, deed poll).

If you were born overseas, bring proof that you have a right to live in New Zealand (for example, a citizenship certificate, a New Zealand passport, a passport from another country with residence class visa or proof of permanent residence).

If your name has changed, bring your marriage certificate, deed poll, or other proof of the name change.

All people applying need to bring two more documents that help to prove who you are (for example, a marriage certificate, bank statement, phone or power account, driver licence).

If you're using identification that has expired, it must not be more than two years past the expiry date.

There are more things you need to bring in the table on the next page.
