PRIVACY & SOCIAL SECURITY ACT

The Social Security Act allows us to check the information that you have given us in this form. This may happen at the time of application and at any time after that.

The Privacy Act 1993 requires us to inform you that:

- The information provided in this form is being collected under the authority of the Social Security Act 1964.
- The information will be held by Work and Income.
- The information is being collected for the functions and purposes of Work and Income, and in particular
 - the granting of benefits and other financial assistance under the Social Security Act 1964
 - the provision of employment related services
 - statistical and research purposes
 - the provision of advice to Government.
- Work and Income may contact health providers to verify any health related information provided on this form.
- Work and Income may provide information about you to employers to find you employment. Where Work and Income refer you to a job vacancy, Work and Income may also contact the employer to assess the outcome of any job interview that you may have attended.
- The information you have provided may also be shared between childcare centres and Work and Income for the purpose of administering your entitlement to childcare.
- Other information that you give us on your skills, aspirations etc, is not required to assess your entitlement to a benefit but will be used to provide a better service to you.
- The information you have provided may be compared with information held by Inland Revenue, the Ministry of Justice, the Department of Corrections, the New Zealand Customs Service, the Department of Internal Affairs, the Accident Compensation Corporation, Housing New Zealand Corporation and the New Zealand Immigration Service. It may also be compared with Social Security information (for example, pension or benefit information) held by other governments (including Australia and the Netherlands).
- Under the Tax Administration Act 1994, if you have dependent children, the information you have provided may be shared with Inland Revenue for the purpose of administering Working for Families Tax Credits. Inland Revenue may also:
 - use the information for the purposes of child support, student loans and taxation
 - disclose it to the Department of Labour, Statistics New Zealand, the Ministry of Justice, the Accident Compensation Corporation, and the Ministry of Education
 - disclose your personal information to your partner.
- Under the Privacy Act 1993 you have the right to request access to all information held about yourself and to request corrections to that information.
- It is not compulsory to provide us with information but if you do not provide us with all the information we request, your application may be declined.
