If you need help filling in this form, please phone 0800 559 009 within New Zealand, or +64 9 913 0300 outside New Zealand.

To be eligible for the Special Needs Grant – International Custody Dispute Payment, you must:

• be the principal caregiver of a dependent child(ren), and
• be in hardship, and
• have exhausted all other avenues of financial support that might reasonably be available.

Also, you must either be:

• in New Zealand under a temporary or limited purpose permit with the child for the purposes of resolving custody and access proceedings, or
• a New Zealand citizen/permanent resident and in another country under the Hague Convention to resolve the custody dispute.

This is an income and asset tested payment.

You need to do several things before Work and Income can help you.

1. Fill out this application form.
2. Collect all the documents you need to show us. We tell you about these documents in the application form (look for the 🔗), and we also have a list on page 3.
3. Send this application form and the verified documents to:

   International Custody Dispute Payment
   Helpline
   Ministry of Social Development
   PO Box 1556
   Wellington 6140
   New Zealand

You must give us all the information we need.

If you don’t have all the information we need, talk with us and we may be able to help.

If we find out later that any information you give us is not true, or that you knew information you should have told us and did not tell us, we may stop paying your benefit. You might need to pay money back. In some cases you could even be prosecuted.

Definition of a relationship for benefit purposes

Whether people are single or a couple affects eligibility for certain income assistance and the rate at which we can pay that assistance.

When we work out your entitlement to income assistance, we'll consider you to be in a relationship if you’re married, in a civil union, or in a de facto relationship, and have a degree of companionship.

By degree of companionship, we mean two people:

• are committed to each other emotionally for the foreseeable future, and
• are financially interdependent.

To give you a better idea of what we mean by this, think about whether your relationship includes some of the things below:

• you live together at the same address most of the time
• you share responsibilities, for example bringing up children (if any)
• you socialise and holiday together
• you share money, bank accounts or credit cards
• you share household bills
• you have a sexual relationship
• people think of you as a couple
• you give each other emotional support and companionship.

How to answer Q27:

Tick this statement to confirm you understand the definition of a relationship for benefit purposes.

If you don't understand what we mean by a relationship please leave this blank until you talk with us. In the meantime, go to question 32.

- assessing eligibility for social housing and calculating income-related rents under the Housing Restructuring and Tenancy Matters Act 1992
- assessing whether you and/or your partner may be entitled to an overseas pension, benefit or allowance.

You are not required to give the Ministry of Social Development information, but if you do not give us all the information we ask for, your application for benefits or pensions and other assistance may be declined.

We may contact health practitioners

The Ministry of Social Development may contact health practitioners to check any health related information you give us.

We may use information for public housing

Information you give us when you apply for assistance, and at any time after that, may also be used for public housing purposes under the Housing Restructuring and Tenancy Matters Act 1992, including reviewing your eligibility for social housing or your income-related rent. Public housing is subsidised housing available to people in the greatest need of housing for the duration of their need. It is provided by Housing New Zealand and approved community housing providers.

We may compare the information you give us with information held by other agencies

The information you give us may be compared with information held by other agencies such as Inland Revenue, the Ministry of Justice, Department of Corrections, New Zealand Customs Service, Department of Internal Affairs, Accident Compensation Corporation, Housing New Zealand Corporation, Ministry of Health and Immigration New Zealand. It may also be compared with social security information (for example, pension or benefit information) held by other governments (including Australia, Malta and the Netherlands).

We may share information with Inland Revenue

Under the Tax Administration Act 1994, if you have dependent children, the information you give us may be shared with Inland Revenue for the purpose of administering Working for Families Tax Credits. Inland Revenue may also:

- use the information for the purposes of child support, student loans and taxation
- disclose it to the Ministry of Business, Innovation, and Employment, Statistics New Zealand, the Ministry of Justice, the Accident Compensation Corporation, and the Ministry of Education
- disclose your personal information to your partner.

We may give information to service providers, employers, public housing providers and childcare providers

The Ministry of Social Development may:

- give employers information about you if you use our employment services
- share information with childcare centres to administer your entitlement to childcare assistance
- give information about you to the Tertiary Education Commission, Workbridge, training providers, career services or other agencies that have a formal agreement to provide services on behalf of the Ministry of Social Development, if you use our employment services
- share information about you with public housing providers (such as Housing New Zealand) to administer your housing-related assistance.

We may use your information to give you a better service

Other information that you give us that is not required to assess your entitlement may be used to provide a better service to you.

You have the right to see and correct your information

Under the Privacy Act 1993 you have the right to ask to see all information we hold about you and to ask us to correct that information.
